

I am still receiving some calls from telemarketers, especially phone companies. But, it has been much better than before this ruling went into effect. I am strongly against having this ruling washed down to the point where I would receive as many calls as I did before. We couldn't even eat a meal without getting two or three calls by telemarketers. Thank you.